A New Back for an Old One—How it Is Done in Lexington

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the old back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Lexington citizen.

T. E. Dulaney, Lexington, Va., says: "I am glad to verify every word of the public statement I gave two years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and I can say that it gave a correct account of my experience. I have induced many other people to use them and I have heard nothing but good reports from all. My back was in bad shape and I was obliged to remain in bed for three days. When I did get up, I could not walk unless I was in a stooped position and then I endured agony. I also had a great deal of trouble from the kidney secretions. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and the contents of this box greatly improved my condition." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and ask no other.

An Even Thing.

The late Sydney Mudd of Maryland was on a train going from Washington to his home when a man who had had too much to drink sat down beside him. The passenger blinked at Mudd for a moment; then he lurched over and asked, "Shay, wash your name?" "My name is Mudd," he replied. Said the other: "You got nothin' on me. My name's Dennis." — Saturday Evening Post.

Thick.

"How did you find the weather in London?" asked the friend of the returned traveler. "You don't have to find the weather in London," replied the traveler. "It bumps into you at every corner." — Life

REMOVE THE MUMMIES.

Don't Leave Them on Peach Trees to Infect the Trees Next Year.

After all the fruit has ripened and zone and the leaves have fallen there will still remain on many of the peach trees the dried up remains of peaches. These dry, withered peaches are called mummies, probably because they are dead and yet seem to exist a long time without rotting. Mummied peaches will hang on the tree all fall and winter, and often till far into the following spring, when the new growing buds and shoots push them off. To all appearances they are harmless.

But the mummy on the peach tree is a source of great evil in the fruit orchard business. On its hidden hide it carries hundreds of thousands of spores of disease. Next year these spores, if allowed to remain in the orchard, will be carried by wind, rain and other agencies to other trees, to cause the growing and ripening crop to rot.

Many years the peach trees blossom freely, abundance of fruit sets and grows to maturity, the peaches begin to color and ripen, when all at once, within a few days' time, they all begin to rot. Almost before we know it all of the peaches on all the trees in the orchard have rotted. Where there was prospect for a large and valuable crop of perfect peaches now is only more or less worthless rotten trash, and all has happened before we could help ourselves.

The remedy for disease in the orchard caused by spores is spraying and washing with bordeaux mixture. This mixture will kill and keep in check nearly all fungous diseases if the treatment is given in the right way and at the right time.

Of course it is needless to make the applications after the disease or rot has once got under way, any more than it is to give medicine to a sick animal when it is dying. The disease must be taken in time and the medicine given in the earlier stages if it is to do much good, and prevention is better than cure.

The peach mummies should be removed from the peach trees just as soon in the fall as the falling of the leaves will permit all of them to be immediately burned to get them out of the way and to kill the spores adhering to them to prevent them flying in the air of the orchard and causing the next season's crop of peaches to rot.

If this is promptly and carefully done every year—in your own orchard and in your neighbor's—there will be less rotten fruit.—Farm Progress.

THE SIZE THAT COUNTS.

It is not so much the size of the farm as the size of the farmer that counts. It is the man who studies to get the best results from the amount of land he controls, the man who puts in his time in the best way, the man who thinks about his work, who succeeds with the many or the few acres that he farms.

SAVE YOUR FINGERS.

Device on Best Cutter to Prevent Injury to Workmen.

While America leads the world in the matter of big crops, it is behind the countries of Europe in such things as getting the most out of its land without exhausting its fertility and in other important respects. Wheat lands in Europe have been cultivated for a thousand years without showing as many signs of exhaustion as American lands placed under the plow less than 10 per cent of that time.

In another very important respect Europe is far ahead of the United States. That is in guarding against accidents to workers in field and factory.

A practicable European device for preventing injury to men engaged in cutting beets is shown in the picture. To protect the workmen from touching the knife disk of the beet cutter the disk is covered completely from the outside and, as far as possible, from the inside. The outer sheet metal safety lid furthermore prevents the cut beets from flying around so that they can be more easily guided into a receptacle placed underneath.

Farmer Sues an Aviator.

The first legal case of a farmer against a flying machine has been brought in England. An aeroplane came down in a field of barley and did considerable damage. The farmer has brought suit.

TWO NEW HATS.

The Scheme That Won Them and the Way It Was Worked.

A man who used to be in politics and was a constant borrower found him self in need of a new hat, but he couldn't find anybody who would lend him a cent.

Finally he went to an acquaintance and said:

"I want to borrow $50 for five minutes."

"You can have it if you will put up a couple of fingers for security."

"Nix. Now I've got a scheme. You lend me the fifty and you needn't let me get out of your sight. If you do I'll stake you to a new hat."

Mystified, but curious, the acquaintance agreed to this, and the two repaired to a prominent hat store.

"Wait a minute," said the adventurer and left his backer doing sentry duty on the sidewalk.

Picking out the most important looking personage in the store, the politician went up to him and said:

"I am so-and-so of the district. I have come to pay for two hats for which I have given orders on you to two of my constituents."

With that he flashed a fifty dollar bill.

There was a scurrying around, a search of books and a reply that no such orders had been presented.

"Just look out for them, will you?" said the district leader, waving the big bill, which was hypnotic in its way, for the clerk bowed low and said, "Yes."

Half an hour later two orders were presented and two hats left the store. —Chicago Post.

The History of "Stepmother."

"Stepmother" is a word with a commonly unsuspected history. Probably most people if called upon to explain it would say that it meant a woman who had stepped into the place of the true mother. Dr. Johnson, at any rate, believed that this was the suggestion of the word to most minds. Really, "step" is the Anglo-Saxon "steop," the original meaning of which appears to have been "orphaned." Stepchild, stepbairn, stepson and stepdaughter came first, and then by gradual fading of the etymological meaning of "step" stepfather and stepmother came into being.—London Chronicle.

Creamed Turkey.

Creamed turkey is a very appetizing dish, but to make it one needs some chicken or veal stock. Here is one recipe for it:

Chop one-half of a green pepper fine. Saute five minutes in three table spoonfuls of butter, then stir in three tablespoonfuls of flour. Add the stock—about one cupful with one-half cupful of hot cream. Heat until smooth and then add salt and pepper and a trifle of celery salt. Now place the saucepan in hot water. Add a cupful of cold roast turkey cut in cubes, one-half cupful of cold boiled potatoes and one-half tablespoonful of onion juice. Take some boiled rice, shape in a mold leaving a hollow center. In the center of the rice serve the turkey.

Hard to Get into Jail.

There was a queer old specimen of humanity brought to the Cayahoga county jail. He had been convicted of the crime of cruelty to animals, and there was no doubt in anybody's mind that he richly deserved the penalty inflicted. It is the custom to examine prisoners, however, before they are assigned to their cells. When this old reprobate was brought up the interrogation went thus:

"What is your name?" "Budd Debsa." "What is your age?" "Sixty-eight." "What is your religion?" "Great snakes! Does a man bafter git religion before they'll let him inter fall in this county?" —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Gentle Reminder.

Neighbor—Hello, Jenkins! How are you? Haven't seen you in the garden for quite a time, and you never come and see the wife and me now. Why is it? Jenkins—Well, the fact is, old chap, that it's not through ill will or bad feeling or anything like that, you know; only you and Mrs. Possum have borrowed so many things from me that when I see your place it makes me feel quite homesick.—London Answers.

Art and Science.

"What a beautiful picture of an angel!" said the lady who was visiting the art gallery.

"Yes," replied the aviation enthusiast, "but between you and me those wings aren't practical!" —Washington
